FOSSIL FOOTPRINTS.—W. M. Murray informs the Territorial Enterprise that about two miles southeast of Dayton (Chinatown,) there is a formation of sandstone, on the southern end of the coal fields, with fifteen prints or foot marks of an animal, whose species is now supposed to be extinct. The foot prints measure fourteen inches in length. Those who pretend to know, say it resembles the track of a large moose. The geological formation indicates that the prints were made more than a thousand years ago. Mr. Sn[illegible] of that place is having the marks excavated from their bed to be sent to the World's Fair in London.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB. 19, 1862.

☞ See first and fourth pages.

The Opposition to the Government in Washington Territory.

We regard it as right and proper that while a portion of the country is in rebellion against the Government, that an expression of public opinion should be had in the loyal States and Territories, to ascertain the position of the people in regard to sustaining that Government. It is a fact generally conceded that in the Pacific States and Territories there are persons, enjoying all the privileges of citizens, who, if they dare, would be in arms against the Government that protects them. The leaders among these men are endeavoring to get up a party to play into the hands of the rebels by calling themselves "peace men;" and they are just such "peace men" as were found in the ranks of the tories in the Revolution, and in the federal ranks in the war of 1812.

In the Territorial Legislature of Washington Territory, which recently met at Olympia, there were several such men, who were elected as democrats. These controlled all the members elected as democrats. They professed to be Union men, but their acts showed that they were not Union men—that is, if acts under the solemnity of oaths with them have any meaning.

To illustrate, we will state: Hon. Miles S. Griswold, of Pacific county, introduced the following resolutions for the action of the Legislature. It will be seen that these resolutions were divested of every thing that could by possibility be objectionable to any true American citizen—to any lover of the Union and the Constitution. The resolutions were in these words:

Resolved, That all sectional divisions can be better healed in the Union than out of it; and that all pretexts for a dissolution of the Union are unsound and unwarrantable.

Resolved, That the alacrity with which the masses of the people rush to the rescue of the Union, declares them worthy of their lineage and birthright, and makes us the most distant limb of the Union, forever their debtor.

Resolved, That the Union has become so incorporated in our institutions, and our institutions with the Union, that the dissolution of the one would seriously endanger the permanence of the other.

Resolved, That Washington Territory, true to herself and true to the government which protects her, will not be found wanting in devotion to the Union, or fidelity to the Laws and Constitution, or in due respect for, and support of Mr. Lincoln's administration, so far as it is engaged in maintaining the one and supporting the other.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our Delegate in Congress, Wm. H. Wallace.

Is there any thing in these resolutions that a Union man could not vote for? If there is, we cannot see it. Taken all together, the resolutions mean that THE PEOPLE OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY WILL SUSTAIN THE UNION, THE LAWS, AND THE CONSTITUTION.

The men elected as democrats to the Legislature of Washington Territory, deliberately voted against these resolutions, and as plainly as men could say, by their votes—"WE ARE OPPOSED TO SUSTAINING THE UNION, THE CONSTITUTION, AND THE LAWS."

If acts and language mean anything; if acts and language under official oaths mean any thing—those who voted against these resolutions are thus placed upon the official records of the Legislature of Washington Territory.

Although the resolutions offered by the honorable gentleman from Pacific county were lost, they have done the public a benefit; they have caused to be placed upon the official records of Washington Territory the fact that the country, in the fiery trial through which she is now passing to sustain the Government, the Union, the Laws and the Constitution, does not have the sympathy of the majority of the members of the Washington Territorial Legislature. We regret that we have not the names of the members who have placed themselves in this position, to append to this article.

GRAND RONDE.—It is understood that many of the overland emigrants of next Fall will take up claims in the Grand Ronde. There are equally good lands on the Powder river.

CORRECTION.—We received the following note from the President of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company on yesterday morning. We had not heard the report of which the note furnishes a contradiction. Miners now need not undertake to make the hazardous trip by land to avoid the anticipated increase of steamboat fare at the Dalles spoken of by our cotemporary.

Prudence suggests to the miners here that they remain until the river is open, and provisions sent to the depots on the lines of the routes to the mines—that they may go to the mines with safety and comfort.

The contradiction by Mr. Ainsworth will check all further rumors and reports that the passage by steamers to the Dalles and costs of freight are to be increased. The contradiction is direct.

OFFICE OF OREGON STEAM NAV. CO. }
PORTLAND, Feb. 18, 1862. }

Editor Oregonian:

Dear Sir—The Advertiser of this morning notices that there is a rumor on the street to the effect, that the Oregon Steam Navigation Company intends raising the price of fare from this place to the Dalles.

I can assure you and the public that all such reports are without foundation, and that there will be no advance on the old rates either of freights or passage.

Very truly, &c.
J. C. AINSWORTH, Pres. O. S. N. Co.

WASHINGTON TERRITORIAL LAWS.—We have seen two or three lists of "Acts passed at the late session of the Territorial Legislature." We doubt whether either of them were correct. Neither stated that acts had been passed making provision for the support of insane persons and idiots or the incorporation of the "Columbia Transportation Company." The Vancouver Telegraph says that a company with a capital of $350,000 was incorporated—naming the incorporators—with authority to purchase and hold lands and tenements, vessels, wagons, cars, goods and chattels, for the purpose of carrying on the transportation business. We do not know that the company thus incorporated intend to take advantage of the powers granted them.

ARE WE WRONG IN CALLING SUCH EDITORS TRAITORS?—The Oregon Gazette thus indorses the address of J. C. Breckinridge, written by him, while in arms against the government:

"READ AND PRESERVE.—On the first page of this paper we publish the Address of the Hon. John C. Breckinridge to the people of Kentucky. It is a terse, forcibly written, candid, earnest paper, and like every production of its eminent and pure author, is worthy of perusal and preservation."

The "productions" of J. C. Breckinridge are always candid and pure! And this is the party that Judge WAIT has cast his lot with!

"WANTS TO SWEAR."—The Red Bluff Independent says that Mr. Stark wants to swear to support the Constitution. We believe that this is the same gentleman who stated in this city that we had no Government but the Confederated Government, and that the South Carolina flag was his flag. If the Independent is correct, Mr. Stark must be anxious to take the back track.

The Advertiser seems still determined to kill Mr. John T. Jeffreys' stock in Wasco county. He says that he had the news from a (late) resident at the Dalles. Very likely. It was nevertheless fiction. Mr. Jeffreys' has not lost an animal. The Advertiser should be more careful in making up sensation items.

GRAND RONDE AND POWDER RIVER VALLEYS.—In the expedition of Fremont to Oregon and California, several years since, analysis of the soils of the valleys named was made, which proved that the soils, in a high degree, possessed the elements of fertility.

Some Clackamas county farmers are losing their stock. The same men burnt their straw last fall. The old adage, live and learn, applied to stock should be changed—"Die and learn."

Dr. Wm. H. Watkins of this city, late Republican Presidential Elector, is a very different man from that Wm. H. Watkins whose name is connected with the call of the secession Convention.

James Redpath, a notorious abolitionist, has repudiated his former doctrines. We consider abolitionists and secessionists as equal enemies to the government.

In 1858, there were 40 and 25-100 inches of rain at Vancouver. In Peoria, Ill., same year, there fell 34 and 94-100 inches of rain.

ROW AT NASHVILLE.—An Union man left Nashville on the 6th. The city was in a great state of excitement. On that and the previous day, an attempt was made to draft citizens into the army. The indignation of the people was intense, and a mob broke out in the Fourth Ward, and four policemen who attempted to quell the riot were shot dead in their tracks. The mob rushed to the Capitol to attack Gov. Harris, who fled to Memphis. The papers of the next day announced that he had gone thither on business.

MORE MORMON TANTRUMS.—Late news from Salt Lake give accounts of recent outrages committed by the Mormons against the Federal officers located amongst them. It seems that the Saints, taking advantage of the embarrassments of the Government of the United States, are determined on immediate application for admission into the Union as a State. To this end the Legislature has called a Convention to form a Constitution to be submitted to Congress. The Act calling the Convention was vetoed by Governor Dawson; but the Legislature passed it by a two-thirds vote over his veto. The Governor's conduct thus became obnoxious to the Mormons, who assailed him through their press, and, to make his position as uncomfortable as possible, bullies and blackguards insulted him in the streets. Not wishing to remain longer among people who thus treated him, his Excellency hired four Mormon pilots to lead him out of the city on his way to other quarters. They took his liberal pay, but when they got him on the road and out of sight from witnesses, they set upon and beat the Governor most shamefully. They are evidently intent on forcing either another difficulty with the Government, or a polygamist constitution through Congress.—Marysville Appeal.

THE OVERLAND NEWS.—Jesse D. Bright, of Indiana, whose term would have expired on March 4th, 1863, has been expelled from the U. S. Senate. Among the 14 who voted against the expulsion were Latham of California and Nesmith of Oregon, the Senators from Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey, and Ira Harris of New York. The peace offering to England of closer commercial relations with Canada rather than any movement toward abrogating the Reciprocity Treaty, has been recommended to the House by the Committee on Commerce. There is to be no trouble at all about the expedition from Kansas. Lane holds on to his seat in Congress, and Hunter is to command the expedition, which was recruited none the less rapidly and deemed all the more formidable for the popular name it has acquired of "Jim Lane's Expedition." Jeff. Davis has appealed unto the French Cæsar. If he has made a clean breast of the scanty resources of the Confederacy, France must see how hopeless is the struggle against the Union. If he has simply repeated in private documents the statements of his Message, no French diplomatist will fail to detect their falsity, for the messages of the Governors of the insurrectionary States expose their utter untruthfulness. As to the canard about the proposed hypothecation of the Sandwich Islands to Great Britain, it is enough to say that it emanates from the New York Herald, and can scarcely have created in New York the slightest sensation.—S. F. Bulletin.

The call for the disunion democratic convention is addressed to those who are "in favor of the establishment of the Union as it was." That is an acknowledgment that the Union does not now exist. Secession is recognized, and as the peace men declare the North was to blame, of course they must hold that the rebel States are justified in trying to secede. Every true Union man denies the right to secede, and holds that the Union is established as it was, and is only sought to be destroyed by such sneaks as were about to be hurled from power, and hence sought to destroy what they could not control. They have not succeeded, and never can succeed, notwithstanding the pious prayers of the Portland Advertiser and its ilk.—Argus.

FROM SOUTHERN OREGON.—From the Sentinel of the 8th we learn that Capt. Truax' cavalry company is fully officered, and was christened the "Jackson Rangers" on the 31st ult.

At the February term of the circuit court there was not a single criminal in the county jail.

On the 23d ult., at Lisle's Ferry, on Rogue river, the ferry boat was upset by the current and three Chinamen drowned. The ferryman was saved. The Chinamen in that section offered a reward of $1,000 for the recovery of each of the bodies of their comrades.

Josephine county has suffered heavily by the late flood—bridges, mills and private property being swept away.

ROBBERY AT ALBANY.—Two men from Yreka were robbed last week at the village tavern, Albany, one of $500 and one of $200. The robber was detected and the money recovered.

Andrew J. Patz, accused of the murder committed near Albany, was bound over for trial.

It is reported that Rev. Glenn O. Burnett and family, lately of Polk county, Oregon, were all drowned during the recent flood in California; that they were upon an island in the Sacramento, and unable to get off.—Oregon Statesman.

Multnomah Union Convention.

The legal voters of Multnomah County, who are in favor of electing men to office who are pledged to sustain the Government in its efforts to suppress the rebellion, maintain and enforce the laws by all the means at its command, and are willing to respond to the call made for a Union State Convention, are invited to meet in their several precincts at the usual place of voting, at one o'clock on Saturday, the 22d day of March, 1862, and elect delegates to a Union County Convention, to be held at the Court House, in Portland, on Saturday, the 29th day of March, 1862, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Union State Convention, to be held in Eugene City on the 9th of April, 1862. The precincts are entitled, upon the basis of the popular vote, to delegates as follows: North Portland, 10; South Portland, [illegible]; Multnomah, 2; Powells Valley, 3; Willamette, 2; Sandy, 2; St John's, 1; Sauvie's Island, [illegible]

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—It is with deep sorrow that we announce the death of Captain Richard Hoyt. He breathed his last yesterday noon, at his residence in this city, after a brief illness. Captain Hoyt came to Oregon in 18[illegible], at which time he commanded a vessel running between San Francisco and this place. The year following he ran a steamer (we believe the first that navigated the waters of the Willamette) between Portland and Oregon City; and for the past several years ran the steamer Multnomah between this city and Astoria. Captain Hoyt stood among the first in developing and building up our country; and his death will be largely felt in this community.

BOMBARDMENT OF CANTON.—The tea store of Wa Ching, a Celestial, was turned inside out yesterday, and one of the inmates rather roughly handled. It appears that a young lady entered the store to make a few purchases, and while there was grossly insulted by one of the Chinamen. She immediately left the store and informed her friends, when they repaired to the spot and severely chastised the offending party. If this is a true version of the affair, "John" was served perfectly right.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The case of the State of Oregon vs. W. W. Chapman, was heard yesterday. Defendant was charged with malicious mischief in destroying a fence erected around a block of land which is in dispute between him and Thos. Carter. His Honor, after hearing the evidence, discharged the defendant.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Tracy & Co. for furnishing us late papers—among which was the Shasta Courier, of date one day later from California. It contained nothing of importance, however.

Miners who cannot find quarters in town, can be accommodated in the country. There are many wealthy farmers in Clackamas county, who can furnish them with board and lodging until the breaking up of the river.

See Charley Burchard's advertisement. The Gem Saloon has a good supply of fine liquors on hand.

Miners are leaving this city for the mines. We regard this movement as a species of insanity. No man should leave here for the mines for two or three weeks.

McCormick has a supply of the Tribune Almanac. It furnishes valuable information to politicians. We thank him for a copy.

The time for holding the Union Precinct meetings in Multnomah county is on Saturday the 22d day of March.

Travelers report the ice perfectly sound and strong from the Dalles down to Vancouver.

A good many of our citizens are making arrangements for keeping boarders.

ARRIVED.—The bark Jane A. Falkinbery arrived at this port yesterday afternoon. The following is her list of consignees:

Hurgren & Shindler, 52 packages; E. J. N. & Co., 32; H. W. Corbett, 182; M. Seller, 25; J. Kohn & Co., 400; Harker Bros., 300; J. Sellers & Co., 250; Trenchard & Hustler, 10; A. Agency Notice.—Mr. L. P. FISHER is our only authorized Agent in San Francisco to receive advertisements, and transact business for the DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN. Office—No. 171½ Washington street, nearly opposite Maguire's Opera House.

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe; and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make A TIGHT LOCK-STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer; should stitch, fell, run and gather; and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS, Moore's Melodies, Tom Tidler, at CHARLES BARRETT'S,
Opposite Pioneer Hotel.

A Steamboat Captain Sold by Dodge the Vocalist.

Dodge, some years ago, about the time he quit teaching the art of wax fruit and flower making, and fortunately took up that of concerting; at which profession he has, according to repute, amassed an independent fortune, made a break across the mountains, and one fine morning found himself in the city of Cincinnati.

Here he took passage in the afterwards unlucky steamer, the B——— S———, bound down to Memphis, Vicksburg, Natchez and New Orleans. The boat was densely crowded, being stowed full on deck with agricultural implements, horses, cord-wood, dutch emigrants, and other hardware; while the cabins were filled with trunks, girls and boys, men and women, and such like plunder.

After supper, Dodge having by letters of introduction made the acquaintance of a very useful personage, the Captain of the boat, they arm in arm took a peep into the ladies' saloon. It was quite full, and one of the ladies was playing on the piano elegantly, while some others, having a greater taste for vocal than instrumental music, were humming over a few of the latest fashionable productions of Bishop, Glover, Dempster and other eminent composers.

The Captain and Dodge stood for some time in respectful silence, when the lady at the piano politely requested aid from some one to assist her in that glorious and soul-exhilarating and never-dying old duet, "The Captain's Boat Song."

This was Dodge's cue. He very readily stepped forward, and begged permission to lead off.

"If you please, sir," said the lady, whose angelicious voice Dodge declares nearly took away his breath.

However, our hero pitched into the "Boatman" like a load of coal and says that, united with the voice of the Mississippi nightingale, he fairly made Rome howl.

After the "Boatman" came a few selections from the operas lately published, and the night being far advanced, to wind up, Dodge was obliged to favor the ladies with a description of his visit to Niagara Falls.

"Egad, old fellow," said the Captain, meeting Dodge in the social hall about midnight, "you get along swimmingly with the ladies. Why you sing like a bird!"

"O, yes, I sing a little."

"And, egad, you thumbed that lady's guitar into fits."

"Well, I rather guess I did torture it some, but tell me, Captain, who the deuce is that lady dressed in black, that sings like a nightingale, and plays with the finish and perfection of a professor?"

The Captain being a noted wag, and the terror of all jokers on the Mississippi, he suddenly conceived the idea of selling the Yankee, which would sound high among the New Englanders in ages to come as a model sell.

"That lady, my dear fellow, is a—a widow."

"You don't say so?"

"Yes, but I do though, and more, that she's rich as mud, sir, worth seventy-five thousand dollars, young and beautiful into the bargain—a good chance for a Yankee boy, just commencing in life."

"She's certainly very beautiful."

"Beautiful as an angel."

"A very fine musician, too."

"Unequaled by any other on the river; why sir, she sings like a seraph."

"How long has she been a widow?"

"A little over a year now, since her captain was placed under the sod."

"Ah! then her husband was a captain was he?"

"Yes, he was a captain, but he got blowed, poor fellow. This steamboating is risky business for a man who cares about his life, sir! risky business, but then, if you get the widow and you can do it, if you cotton strong enough, for she likes you already—I saw it in her eye, you can retire on some plantation and spend the rest of your days in indescribable and unbounded luxury."

"Well, captain, hang me, if I aint a good mind to spread myself for the young widow, and try my hand at courting for the first time in my life."

"Go in my boy, I'll back you with all my influence; if I wasn't a married man, I'd surely go in for that charming woman; but you'll win, young, good looking—"

"Don't, don't, if you please, captain!"

"Hang it, Dodge, you must not be so modest."

"But, captain, gas, soap, putty, think of my feelings."

"Then you sing and play like a book and the young widow loves music, she loves music to distraction; and now, my boy, strike while the iron is hot! Why, sir, if I could sing and play the guitar equal to—"

"Hold on, captain, hold on: I understand all about that; but now tell all about the young and beautiful widow, give me her name age and residence."

"Her name is Amarantha Bronson; age about twenty-four; residence New Orleans, and as we shall be about ten days in running down, you will have a fair chance to exert yourself; so take my advice, and make the best of your time."

"I will," said Dodge, and he didn't do anything else; for always having an eye open, his suspicions were aroused by the captain's attempt at flattery, and his endeavors to bring about a hasty avowal of love for the accomplished and beautiful young lady. So setting his wits to work, he discovered that the captain had been under the delightful chains of Hymen but about two weeks and the pseudo widow was no more than the charming wife of the captain.

"Now," said Dodge, to himself, "the captain has planned a joke and he shall have it, only I'll alter the plot."

Not letting any person on the boat know his destination, and telling the captain he would settle his fare when he left the boat, he improved every spare moment with the widow, until the steamer came alongside the levee at Natchez.

Ascertaining that the steamer would not leave for three quarters of an hour, he gave his baggage in charge of a resident of the town, and watching the captain until he had entered [illegible] which he [illegible] daily [illegible] goods from New Orleans, the [illegible] went to the captain's wife and [illegible] informed her that [illegible] the boat would [illegible] at Natchez for two days [illegible] and [illegible] friends to visit [illegible] [illegible]
